key free downloadInhibition of synaptosomal plasma membrane Ca(2+)-ATPase by carbon monoxide. We examined the effects of exposure of synaptosomes to carbon monoxide (CO) on their Ca(2+)-ATPase activity. At concentrations from 10(-6) to 10(-4) M, CO produced inhibition of the enzyme. Incubation of synaptosomes with CO for 20 min at 37 degrees C, resulted in a dose-dependent and reversible inhibition of 45Ca2+ uptake by the purified enzyme (IC50 = 10(-6) M). The inhibitory effect was irreversible after 90-min preincubation, but the observed inhibition was rapidly reversed by washing out CO. Direct inhibition of the plasma membrane Ca(2+)-ATPase by CO could account for its effects. CO was not an inhibitor of sarcopl

Sleeping Dogs Definitive Edition DLC.Q: Qt 5.1.0 error loading shared library /usr/lib/x86_64-linux-gnu/libQt5Widgets.so.5 I am trying to use Qt 5.1.0 in Ubuntu 13.04 with gcc 4.7.3. I have followed the steps on i.e. I have compiled and installed the Qt libraries and have built several of the applications in it. However, when I tried to build the Qt Creator, I have got the error: [50%] Building CXX object CMakeFiles/QtCreator.dir/main.cpp.o /usr/bin/ld: /usr/lib/x86_64-linux-gnu/libQt5Widgets.so.5: wrong ELF class: ELFCLASS32 /usr/bin/ld: final link failed: Invalid operation collect2: error: ld returned 1 exit status I have tried to build the version 5.0.1, in which I got the same error. I've tried some other git releases of Qt 5.1.0 on all linux distros, and all of them have the same error. I think the problem is that I've compiled Qt 5.1.0 with a different gcc version, than the one which I want to use for Qt. Can anyone help me with
