The aim of this study was to determine whether equine preimplantation embryos are present during mares' cycles of in vitro fertilization and embryo transfer (IVF/ET). Superovulated mares were used for IVF/ET. Preimplantation embryos were classified according to their developmental stage. Although embryos were observed for 22 h after IVF/ET, none was observed in the female tract. No morphological or ultrastructural abnormalities were observed during the first stages of development and blastocysts were formed.TEHRAN — Five people, including a cleric, were sentenced on Saturday to long prison terms in a case that has elicited widespread anger against Iranian President Mahmoud Ahmadinejad over accusations of a government cover-up of police brutality. The ruling by the special court at the Islamic Revolution Tribunal made public the charges and verdicts in the case of a university student, student protesters, a former Revolutionary Guard commander, a cleric and the parent of a student protester who died in custody. The cleric, Seyyed Hossein Borujerdi, is the most senior cleric in the holy city of Qom, home to the shrine of Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, the founder of Iran's 1979 Islamic Revolution. The student protesters and the former Revolutionary Guard commander received five years, while the parent was given 10 months. The student protester was sentenced to three years. The university student received one year, the maximum punishment in Iran, though in an Islamic Republic, charges against political prisoners can often lead to longer prison terms. The judge, Mohammad Moghimi, said the five would be held in prison for one af5dca3d97
